Guildford Nursery School hosted their annual Froebel Festival on Saturday 18th May.

It was very well attended by past, present and future families plus some staff from other schools and settings - 315 people visited in the space of two hours!

Explore Rachna Joshi's latest blog on #Froebelian pedagogy at Guildford Nursery School where she discusses the importance of pretend play for children. Conversations with the headteacher highlighted the evolving needs of children, particularly in developing their imaginative play skills.
